

WYOMING TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION

February 28, 2015

Week Seven of the 63rd Wyoming Legislature is behind us - just five days to go in the proposed 37-day session. Friday marked the final day for bills to be reported out of Committee in second house and Monday is the last day for bills to get off of general file in the second house.

Work concluded in both houses this week on the supplemental budget. Standing committee reports from both houses identified 11 identical amendments, and another 55 between the two sides that were not. The bill will head to a conference committee to resolve differences between the two houses. Only one bill, which will incorporate amendments from both houses, will become law. A summary of the House and Senate amendments, along with bills that have been signed into law can be found below.

As of Friday, February 27, 2015, the total profiled General Fund appropriations for other bills (those in addition to the Governor's budget recommendation) totaled $8,751,221, which was up $246,001 from last week. The discrepancy between both houses on supplemental budget appropriations is relatively modest, differing by $562,467. (See table below).

Joint Committees have been meeting this week to discuss interim topics and will continue next week (see Committee Meeting Notices below). The Joint Revenue Committee will meet on Monday, March 2nd, to discuss potential interim topics.
